Mrs. Russell asks The Herald to express for them their sincere appreciation to people of the Hamlin territory for their cards, flowers, wires and prayers. "We know there were a lot of people praying for Teddy that we didn't know about."

Mrs. Russell reported that Teddy had gained five pounds recently and is eating good and resting better.

FOR MANY YEARS there hung in the president's office in the White House an elaborate crystal chandelier which had been bought in Paris by Thomas Jefferson.

It remained more or less unnoticed until Theodore Roosevelt came into office. Roosevelt, an outdoor man who loved fresh air, usually worked with the windows open. The breeze blowing in caused the prisms to tinkle. For some time Roosevelt endured this distraction—with mounting impatience. Then one day he growled, "Get this thing out of here."

"But, Mr. President," he was asked, "where shall we put it?"

Roosevelt thought this over for a minute.

"Put it in the vice president's office," he ordered. "He has nothing to do anyway. Maybe it will keep him awake."

His order was carried out. And there the chandelier hangs to this day.

Do it the hard way! Think ahead of your job. Then nothing in the world can keep the job ahead from reaching out for you. Do it better than it need be done. Next time doing it will be child's play. Let no one or anything stand between you and the difficult task, let nothing deny you this rich chance to gain strength by adversity, confidence by mastery, success by deserving it.

Do it better each time. Do it better than anyone else can do it. I know this sounds old fashioned. It is, but it has built the world!

HHS Seniors Write Essays on Industry

Interest of seniors of Hamlin High School in future industrial possibilities was enlisted this week when the Hamlin Board of Community Development agreed to sponsor a local contest among the seniors in essay writing on "What My Town Can Do to Have More Industry."

The project, being sponsored on a regional basis by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is designed to spark new interest and develop new ideas on the section's industrialization program.

The Hamlin BCD pooled cash prizes of $50 for winners in the local essay writing contest, which will be conducted through the English department of the high school under direction of Mrs. Charles Scott. The prizes will be divided as follows: $25 for first place, $15 for second and $10 for third.

Essay of the first place winner will be entered in the regional contest. Regional winner will be given a $250 college scholarship in the school of his choice by the WTCC.

The senior participants in the contest are to make their own material research. Hamlin business and professional men may be consulted for ideas, but the students must, of course, write all their own essay compositions.

The local contest is being conducted under auspices of the industrial development committee of the BCD, of which Carl Murrell is chairman.

Spring Comes in on 30-Mile-an-Hour Gust

In the Hamlin territory spring came howling in Saturday with 30-miles-per-hour north winds, 35-degree temperature, plus a few flakes of snow.

Even at that it was a little better than Friday, when real estate from the Plains was moving across the country in the form of dust.

Several Projects for Community Loom As BCD Committees Make Reports

Several projects for the Hamlin community are underway or in the planning stage through committee functioning of the Board of Community Development, it was brought out at the monthly business session of the board of directors of the civic organization Monday evening in the BCD offices.

President Fred B. Moore Jr. asked his various committee chairmen to make reports of their activities.

Industrial committee reported work on endeavors to secure a federally sponsored brackish water treatment plant for the area. (A separate story on this is carried in another column of The Herald). That committee also presented plans for sponsoring locally essays by high school seniors on "What My Town Can Do to Have More Industry." The directors voted to post $50 in cash prizes for winners in the contest.

Public relations and retail trade committee has trade expansion plans underway. This group will meet in planning sessions this week-end.

Efforts to promote community clean-up and paint-up programs will be sponsored by the community improvement committee. The directors expressed hope that the dress-up fever would be contagious.

Highway committee reported good work in the area, pointing out that this territory had been given more projects during the past several months than probably any other region of the state of Texas.

Prizes Offered in Child Photograph Contest for Area

The time is almost here for the opening of this newspaper's big child photograph contest, and we are urging all of our readers to have their children ready for the big day.

Winston B. Lucas of Irving will be in Hamlin on Friday, April 3, from 10:00 a. m. till 6:00 p. m. at a studio over The Herald office for the purpose of taking pictures in this vicinity.

In addition to having their pictures printed in The Herald, the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes, which are being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

The photographs will be made absolutely free of charge and there is no charge for their publication in The Hamlin Herald. Proofs will be shown and from these you may select the picture of your child which you would like to appear in this newspaper. If you wish extra photographs, they may be purchased, but no purchase is necessary in order to have your child's picture printed in this newspaper, or in order to compete for the prizes. It is entirely up to you whether you buy pictures or not.

There is no age limit on the contest, and every child's photograph in this section is wanted so that they may all appear in The Herald. However, it is necessary that all pictures must be of uniform size so they must be made by Winston B. Lucas on Friday, April 3.

Don't wait until little Mary gets married or baby brother is elected to some political office to see their pictures in the paper—make plans now to have these photographs made on Friday, April 3. Tell your friends and neighbors—the more, the merrier!

Water Treatment Would Mean Big Benefit for Area

Endeavor to get an experimental plant to convert brackish water into usable water is being pushed by the industrial development committee of the Hamlin Board of City Development, it was revealed at the Monday evening meeting of the board of directors of the BCD.

Carl Murrell, chairman of the committee, declared that his group is seeking more information on the project. A meeting of the committee is scheduled Monday to go further into the matter.

A resolution proposing West Texas as site for one of the experimental plants was passed recently by the Texas Senate at Austin.

Senator Moffett of Chillicothe sponsored the resolution, which said favorable results in West Texas would be of more benefit than other places because the area has enough water to solve all its problems if a conversion method can be developed.

The federal government has authorized five test plants, three for coastal locations to work with sea water. One is to be located in an inland, arid section. It is this latter project that would be sought for the Hamlin section.

"If all the water south of West Texas could be demineralized at low cost, it would be of vast economic benefit to the region and indirectly would benefit the entire state, it was stated in the resolution which went to Interior Secretary Stanton.

The experimental plant's possibility in this location makes the reservoir project on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, talked by the old Hamlin Chamber of Commerce several years ago, all the more vital, it is pointed out by BCD leaders.

McAllen Preacher To Lead in First Baptist Meeting

Rev. Robert Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church at McAllen, will do the preaching in the annual spring revival meeting beginning Sunday at the Hamlin First Baptist Church. The meeting will continue through Sunday, April 5, according to Rev. Calvin Bailey, pastor.

Goal for County Set at $6,077 for Worthy Causes

Hamlin is joining with other Jones County towns for the annual Red Cross fund drive this week, Mrs. Frank Gamblin of Stamford, county chairman, said.

Women of clubs affiliated with the Hamlin Woman's Forum will conduct the principal portion of the fund campaign Friday in the business district of Hamlin.

Hamlin's chairman is Clyde (Doc) Sims, who will head the fund drive campaign for this city.

Mrs. Gamblin, executive secretary of the Jones County Red Cross chapter, is chairman for Jones County and has also agreed to take over the responsibility in Stamford.

Bill Neville is Anson chairman. Quota for the county has been set for $6,077, Mrs. Gamblin said. "When you have helped with the Red Cross, you have helped someone to help themselves," she pointed out.

The work of Red Cross in the county takes the place of other aid to families in need, but in the majority of cases they are needing only temporary aid.

Emergencies might arise in any family causing a situation where the family needs some help, Mrs. Gamblin said. On such cases, help is given. It is the chronic cases where there is no desire

WHO PAYS FOR YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY?

Like all welfare state measures social security is tempting because the average individual believes she will receive much more than he pays. If a taxpayer and his employer had paid the maximum amount since the scheme was started 21 years ago, about $1,700 would have been collected. If such a one had retired January 1, 1957, and he and his wife had reached the age of 65, they would be entitled to benefits of $162.80 a month. If they live their normal expectancy they will collect something like $30,000 or about $28,300 more than they and their employer paid into the scheme. After allowing generously for the interest earned on the amounts they paid in from time to time, they would still be collecting more than $25,000 from other taxpayers.

Ponzi lasted a year or so by collecting from new investors to pay previous "clients." This government scheme lasts longer because it is supported by the taxing power of the federal government. In essence, however, it piles a heavier and heavier burden upon the future in order to give those who are retiring now more than they have earned.

The OASI (Social Security Administration) estimates its present accrued liability at about $350,000,000,000, against which it has government bonds amounting to $23,000,000,000.

Meanwhile the tax one pays to social security seriously hampers any private investment program he might undertake on his own behalf. At the same time it gives him a false sense of security based on political promises and rests finally on the ability and willingness of a future generation to tax itself to meet the astronomical liabilities that are being "rolled" up.

One cannot measure the loss of incentive and initiative that this scheme induces due to the false hope of security in old age. The drive to push ahead and provide for one's self, which has been the mainspring of the vast wealth created in our country, is being lost as people settle back with a comfortable feeling that Uncle Sam is going to provide for them. Probably he will, but in sadly inflated dollars.

"Something for nothing" is a deadly virus that has destroyed any people who succumb to it. It violates the commandment of God against stealing, and no people can long do that without loss of their prosperity or freedom or both.

Salty Paint Creek Lake

We are not sure that most of our readers know about the salt water that is and has been running into Paint Creek Lake, from which Stamford and Hamlin get much of their domestic water. But, Hamlin should be cognizant of such a situation because of its sad experiences with salt water in the water from the two West Lakes that is now unusable for domestic use because of its salt content.

Water is more precious to West Texas than any other single thing. No matter whether we drink it, fish in it, ski on it, wash dishes or water cattle, water is important. Without it we would not be here long.

Less than 2,000 feet from the south side of Paint Creek Lake, along the side of the county road, 720 gallons of salt water carrying approximately 600 pounds of salt is running into the lake every 24 hours. In a year's time approximately 219,000 pounds of salt is being dumped into the lake from this one source, declare leaders of the California Creek Soil Conservation District.

If this water is bubbling out of the ground in one place, isn't it possible that it could be bubbling out in the bottom or on the edge of the lake? Pits have recently been dug along the side of the road to help evaporate the salt water. These pits will only be a temporary solution of the problem. Sealing the salt water off where it is now coming out will only cause the water to come out at another location. While 720 gallons of salt brine is a very small amount of salt water for a lake the size of this one, the old saying still holds true: One rotten apple in a barrel will spoil the whole barrel full in time.

The only solution is to locate the oil well or wells that are causing the trouble and to remedy it. Some action needs to be taken immediately.

Where's the Hired Girl?

The nation's "help," a total of 8,000,000 workers at the federal, state and local level, are costing in the neighborhood of $30,000,000,000 a year, says the Tax Foundation, Inc. If we add our uniformed defenders, the ticket is approximately $40,000,000,000!

The most rapid increase has been in the state and local payroll which has multiplied four times in the past 16 years and now totals $19,000,000,000 a year.

Budget Prospective

It has been customary, though not accurate, for supporters of increased federal spending to lay the chief blame at the door of the "cold war." It has been said that the size of this country's budget is dictated from Moscow. A close look at the actual figures, however, tells a somewhat different story.

In the period since the Korean conflict, expenditures for programs related to national security, although near the war-time peak, have remained relatively constant. During this same period expenditures for non-defense programs have increased from $22,500,000,000 in 1955 to an estimated $32,400,000,000 for 1959. This represents an increase in non-defense programs of almost 50 per cent.

The present estimate of a $12,200,000,000 1959 deficit marks the twenty-fourth year in the 30 years since 1929 that the government will have spent more than it took in. On a cumulative basis over the same period, we have had budget deficits totaling $280,000,000,000. On the other side of the ledger, the total of the six years' surpluses add up to but $16,600,000,000.

The cold statistics become more meaningful when it is realized that during the period from 1929 to date the purchasing power of the dollar has been reduced by about 40 per cent. While deficit spending is not the sole culprit in the inflation picture, it is, except in time of war or national emergency, the factor most susceptible to remedy.

Editorial of the Week

RACIAL OUTBURSTS ARE COSTLY.

Outbursts of racial feeling can be an expensive luxury. Little Rock, Arkansas, is already finding this out. Business men report the receipt of letters from companies interested in plant sites, saying that Arkansas has been crossed off their list. One new plant has been cancelled because the families of technical employees objected to moving there.

A research undertaking is finding it hard to get engineers from outside the state. And a manufacturer marketing a product labeled with the state's name has found that this is no asset. Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the state development commission says frankly that the school dispute has had a bad effect.

These bad effects are likely to continue as long as their cause does. This in itself cannot be regarded as a valid argument against segregation. The situation does illustrate one of the unfortunate results of this controversy—

Special Features Planned for Second In Series of Stock Sales at Fort Worth

Jim Dacus, president of the Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club, announced this week the group plans to have members on hand April 9 to serve as greeters and assist out-of-town visitors in every way possible at the April special cattle auction at the Fort Worth stockyards, declares Ted Gouldy, special market reporter for The Herald, in his weekly market summary. Plans Underway For Big Annual Singing at Anson

Plans are underway for the sixty-seventh annual Jones County singing convention, scheduled at Anson on Sunday, April 5, it has been announced by Fred Bennett, president.

The all-day song festival, which annually attracts singers and song lovers from all parts of the state, will be in the high school auditorium, starting about 10:00 a. m.

The program will feature several quartets and special groups, Bennett said.

Regular 11:00 o'clock services of the First Baptist Church, which are being held in the school auditorium while the new church is under construction, will be held at 9:00 a. m. so they will not conflict with the singing convention.

The Jones County singing convention is the outgrowth of a meeting of old-time singers in the Jones County courthouse in Anson in 1882. The convention, organized by C. Sterling, who was the first president, made Anson the permanent home. A sustained interest is reflected in a large yearly attendance frequently reaching as much as 5,000 in recent years.

Other current officers are B. B. McKinney, vice president; and Rue Bennett, secretary.

The Herald has carbon paper.

READY FOR OPENING DAY—First season ticket for the smallest town supporting organized baseball in the United States went to George Kempen Jr. of Alpine. George has always been the first purchaser when the Alpine Cowboys were a semi-pro team. Marking off the seat on his chart is Gene Russell, Cowboy manager. In the background is the controversial stone fence that won't have advertising signs on them this year.

DEMOR NOTE.

Add a few drops of blue food coloring to the water in a crystal vase in which you are putting pink flowers if you want them to appear as if in a blue vase. Red food coloring in the water will change a crystal vase into a red one and green food coloring will make the crystal vase appear as a green one.

A GOOD IDEA.

The wise mother makes it a practice to have each child locate his clothing, books, overshoes and other school paraphernalia in the evening. The next morning he can get off to school without wear and tear on mother's nerves. She will not have to insist on this too long before he forms the habit.

Time for Introducing Bills Passes as Legislature Moves on, Notes Thurman

This begins the ninth week of the fifty-sixth Legislature, and the deadline for introducing bills has passed, notes Leon Thurman of Anson in his weekly news release to The Herald. The letter continues:

To introduce any bill now, it will take the consent of four-fifths of the membership and this is almost an impossibility since most of the people here do not wish any other bills to be introduced. We now have 759 introduced already. If some emergency were to arise, however, I am sure that the membership of the Legislature would allow it to be introduced.

The most controversial thing that we have had so far is the hearing on House Bill 3 which was held last Tuesday evening before the state affairs committee. We have received numerous requests from our people saying they are in favor of House Bill 3 and also requests from many of the cities in the district stating that they are opposed to this bill. When a legislator gets requests from both sides on a bill he must sit in the committee and hear the evidence and arguments submitted both for and against the legislation and then vote the way he thinks would be of the most benefit to all the people concerned. It would, of course, be impossible to please both the pros and cons on House Bill 3.

We had thought that the work of the Legislature would be completed at the end of 120 days, but it now seems that this will not be the case. Since the House and Senate have both passed the sine die resolution, the session will end at the end of the 120 days. If the job is not completed, the governor will then call a special session. The thinking on the part of the legislators is that they were elected to serve 120 days and for any called session and that the people do not want them to serve past the 120 days on a no-pay basis, since the present constitution reads that they for self-help where something else must be done, she said.

To most, Red Cross simply means helping someone who is in military service. We do help the service man, but we also aid the veteran and the civilian, regardless of race, creed or color, Mrs. Gamblin said.

More than 200 wires and phone calls were made last year for emergency leaves, extension of leaves and health and welfare reports. However, telephone and telegraph is used only in emergencies because in addition to the cost, more information can be sent by letter, Mrs. Gamblin said.

Among the other services provided by the Red Cross is securing or providing clothing for patients going to state hospitals, where they are unable to provide it; working with transients; working with local doctors in getting patients admitted to charity hospitals; sponsoring first aid, water safety and swimming and nursing courses of the Red Cross; and various other services.

These are the regular things, Mrs. Gamblin pointed out. "We always hope we won't have to call on the Red Cross for an emergency, but that has been done several times within the past few years here in Jones County."

Some bricks made by the Babylonians and Egyptians more than 4,000 years ago are still in perfect condition.

Midland Man Leads In Central Revival

Annual spring revival meeting at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church will be conducted for 12 days beginning April 15, it was announced this week by officials of the church.

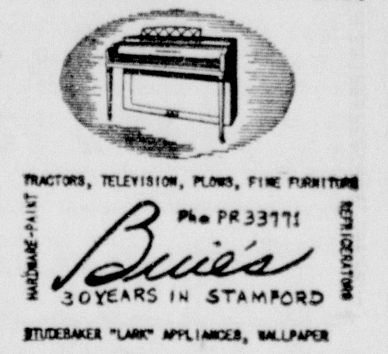

Evangelist for the series of services will be Rev. George Caffey, pastor of the East Side Baptist Church in Midland.

Services are planned at 9:30 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. each day from Wednesday, April 15, through Sunday, April 26. Further information about the revival will be carried in subsequent issues of The Herald.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

A. EMMET JUDGE

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME
The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE
Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction.

This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...
Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

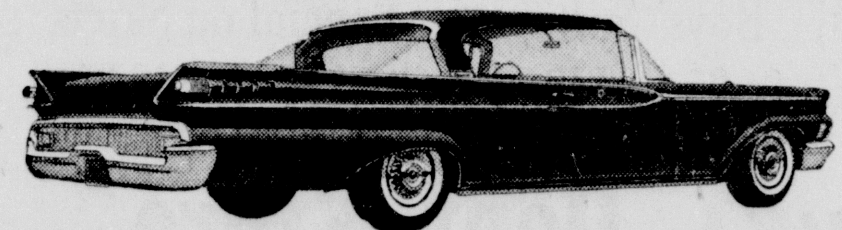

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL
All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system.

This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY
We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Stakes are high and playing rough as the tax battle at the state capitol this spring moves into the "hammer and anvil" stage.

High state officials are laying their cards on the line when they take a stand.

On one side is Governor Price Daniel, who wants to obtain needed new revenue through a program based primarily on taking over abandoned property, changing the bookkeeping methods a bit and increasing corporation franchise taxes, natural gas taxes and certain selective sales taxes.

On the other side are a number of lawmakers, including House Speaker Waggoner Carr, who call the governor's plan inadequate. They contend Texas' revenue needs are great and should be "spread thinly" to cause the least injury. Cited as possible solutions by Carr were the nine-part omnibus tax by Representatives R. L. Strickland and Wesley Roberts, or Representatives H. J. Blanchard's 1 1/2 per cent gross receipts tax.

Some House members, of course, side with the governor. Just how many will go to each side will not be known definitely until a floor vote is taken.

But some people already are reminded of a session 20 years ago when then Governor W. Lee O'Daniel got into a wild tax hassle with House members. O'Daniel used his Sunday morning radio broadcasts to blast steadily at 56 House members who blocked his push for a transactions (sales) tax. Price Daniel was one of the 56.

So far this session, Governor Daniel is focusing his fire on the "powerful lobbyists" who he says are blocking his tax program. Most of Daniel's proposals have been bogged down in the House taxation committee since the first of the session.

Whether they intend to push the governor's bills or some others, the tax committee members have made a move toward speed by adopting a Monday-through-Friday work schedule.

Not Gas.—No tax proposal thus far has brought a solid round of cheers.

Speakers in the gas industry told the taxation committee the proposed natural gas tax would not be paid by Texas consumers but out-of-state users, a claim they claimed. They contended it would increase the industry's burden to 43 per cent, seriously impairing ability to stay in business, let alone contribute to Texas' growth.

Several House committee members were openly hostile to the bill.

City Boys Ho'nswooged.—In a couple of recent city vs. country votes in the House, the "city boys" were completely outdone by their country cousins.

Vanishing Trains.—Why don't

people "take the train" to get places these days? Spokesmen for rail unions and some lawmakers say it's because there practically aren't any passenger trains to take. Rail company men say it's because all their passengers took to riding in cars.

Huntsville newsman Don Reid told the committee he had seen 157 persons executed and had decided "there must be a better way." He said he believed at least six or seven of those executed were innocent.

Representatives of organized labor and church groups joined in supporting the measure. Several said they thought chances of drawing the death penalty were greater for defendants too poor to hire top-notch lawyers.

Representative Clyde Miller introduced a bill which would require the Texas Railroad Commission to consider "public convenience" before allowing discontinuance of a passenger line. Present law allows abandonment if the company can show it is losing money.

Railroad companies protested this could force them to pour millions into losing operations. Union men said the railroads could have more passengers if they would serve the public better. Bill has been sent to subcommittee for study.

Corrections Made in Bank Statement Story

The old linotype machine at The Herald office takes a terrible beating sometimes. Maybe it is wrong part of the time, and maybe it is the guy who operates it.

At any rate, between the machine and the operator last week they made two errors in giving the report of condition of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at the close of business on March 12.

The Herald reported deposits on December 31, last previous statement, were $5,205,000 and they should have been $5,605,000. We reported loans as of March 12 were $1,148,000 when they should have been $1,648,000.

The publisher regrets these discrepancies.

Foursquare Leaders Go to Weinert Clinic

Rev. J. E. Bingham, new pastor of the Foursquare Gospel Church in Hamlin, was accompanied by several workers of his Sunday School to Weinert Tuesday for an all-day Sunday School conference. The conference opened Monday evening and continued through Tuesday evening.

Biggs Craig, conference Sunday School leader, was in charge of the general sessions.

Texas Taxpayers Get Extra Tax Deduction

Texas taxpayers may be entitled to an extra tax deduction on page three of their tax return if they have received dividends from a corporation, reminds Tax Man Sam in a release to The Herald. This is due to Texas being a community property state where both the husband and wife own the stock. Ordinarily it doesn't matter in Texas whether the stock is in the husband's name or the wife's name. Both own the stock. Since both husband and wife own the stock they both get an exclusion of $50 each.

Don't miss taking the extra $50 exclusion if you had more than $100 dividends and are entitled to the exclusion.

Hamlin Tracksters Run Into Big Field at Tarleton Relays

Locals Get Only One Point With Fourth Place Win

Too many and too experienced! That was the verdict of Track Coach Jimmy Vaughan and 15 of his tracksters about the Tarleton College Relays in which they participated last Saturday at Stephenville.

With a smaller group of participants than was expected to be entered in the invitational tournament, the Hamlin High School boys managed to score only one point in the meet. Ken Previtt landed that counter by placing fourth in the 440-yard run.

About 50 North and West Texas schools were entered in the all-day affair that fielded 531 athletes—and it was this formidable group of entries that made the going rough from the start for Coach Vaughan's young and inexperienced tracksters.

Masonic Home of Fort Worth took first place in the Class AA, and B group that competed as a group; and Carter Riverside of Fort Worth took the Class AAA and AAAA competition crown. Winters High School placed third in the former group.

Points were not counted for places beyond the fourth spot.

Hamlin's 440-yard relay team of Ken Previtt, Victor Criswell, Fobe Shields and Sam Mack Hodges qualified for the finals but failed to place. The mile relay team from HHS placed sixth behind fifth place Stamford.

Victor Criswell was fifth in the 20 yard run.

Not all fairy tales begin with "Once upon a time..." Quite a few begin with "Due to circumstances over which I have no control..."

Tracksters to Witness Big Time Athletes

All boys trying out for places on the track and field team at Hamlin High School are scheduled to make a trip today (Thursday) to Abilene Christian College to observe outstanding track and field stars of the country as they participate in an invitational "warm-up" tournament in preparation for the American Business Club's Relays Saturday at Big Spring.

Stars from Ohio State University and other major track and field schools will take part in the ACC meet, says HHS Coach Jimmy Vaughan, who will accompany the Hamlin boys.

McCaulley Teacher to Attend H-P Institute

Mrs. O. C. Freeman, teacher of science in McCaulley High School, has been chosen to participate in this year's National Science Foundation summer institute at Howard Payne College in Brownwood. The institute convenes June 1 and continues through six weeks.

A participant receives a government stipend offered by many colleges throughout the United States.

McCaulley Students Visit Air Radar Unit

Student body of McCaulley High School, accompanied by Superintendent of Schools T. E. Green, the high school principal and three classroom teachers, were guests last Wednesday morning of the Air Force Radar Detection Station near Sweetwater.

The group was guided on a tour of the station and witnessed a simulated interception of an unfriendly plane on the radarscope.

Entries Arriving For Rodeo Events Set by Riding Club

Entries are already being received from contestants for the first invitational girls' barrel racing and jackpot calf roping to be staged Sunday, April 5, at the new arena under auspices of the Hamlin Riding Club, reports Mrs. John D. (Dickie) Ferguson, secretary of the club.

Other entries should be sent to Mrs. Ferguson, who will be glad to furnish additional information and entry blanks.

The girls' barrel racing events will be under sponsorship of the Texas Barrel Racing Association, the first such events ever to be conducted at Hamlin.

Festivities will get underway at 2:00 o'clock.

Several added attractions will be featured on the afternoon rodeo program that is expected to attract several thousand spectators.

Among the added events will be barrel and flag races for children 12 years old and under.

No facilities for the show will be arranged by the riding club for seating and parking of cars, it is announced by Bill Adair, president of the club.

Admission to the show will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for school age children.

Project of Two-Inch Water Line from City to Golf Course Making Headway

Hope of having greener greens at the golf course of Lakeview Golf Club by summer loomed a little brighter this week, declare officials of the club.

The project to build a two-inch water line from Hamlin to the club, three miles southeast of town, was a little nearer realization this week as work of securing easements on property along the route of the line progressed. About six or eight property owners will be affected.

The $7,500 project that means the laying of some 14,000 feet of two-inch water line from the old Santa Fe Railway water tower a quarter of a mile southeast of the depot was approved several weeks ago by a joint meeting of golf club officials and the Hamlin City Council. The council agreed to pay $5,000 on the project and the golf club the balance of the cost, with the golf club guaranteeing a minimum water consumption of $50 per month. Some six or eight other customers would be served by the line, it is explained.

Details of the city's accepting the old three-inch Santa Fe feeder line to the abandoned water tank are being worked out. The railway offered the facilities to the city several years ago, but now the railroad officials claim the transfer was never officially acknowledged, so the case was reopened several weeks ago. No hitch in the transaction are expected to be encountered, say golf club leaders.

End result of running the line to the golf club will be watering of the greens and other facilities at the club. Bent grass, a green-the-year-round variety, will be planted on the greens and permanent care instigated, golf club officials explain.

Dickie Ferguson Attending Wheat Commodity Meet

John D. (Dickie) Ferguson is scheduled to be in Amarillo today (Thursday) as a representative of President E. C. Gregory of the Jones County Farm Bureau at a state-wide meeting of county FB officials to discuss current commodity problems, particularly in regard to wheat.

Attendance will be limited to county presidents or their appointed representatives for the one-day session which gets underway at 10:00 a. m. at the Herring Hotel.

Dr. Warren Collins of Chicago, assistant director of the American Farm Bureau Federation's commodity division, will be the main speaker. He will bring factual information on "the situation we face" regarding commodity problems and will also discuss the current status of farm program legislation in Congress.

State Farm Bureau President J. H. West of Bishop stressed the fact that the meeting will deal with the problems of all commodities, not just wheat.

"I know that you are already aware of the many 'pie in the sky' solutions to our problems that are now being considered in Congress," West said in a letter to county Farm Bureau presidents. "The wheat program, of course, is of utmost urgency, but these rosy solutions now being considered are not limited to that commodity, and would change the 1958 programs for such commodities as cotton and feed grains which have not yet had a chance to work. In light of this situation it is imperative that farmers and ranchers be given the opportunity to know the facts."

Medieval castle building reached its peak just at the time gunpowder was invented, destroying the castle's defense value.

"I want a car that's BUILT FOR PEOPLE"

"Just like a woman! I want a car BUILT FOR SAVINGS"

"Dave, I've found exactly the right car for us! It'll make driving ever so much more comfortable."

"Comfort's fine, Nancy, but we've got to consider savings, too. And I've found just the car for that!"

"But the car I've found is so easy to get in and out of... and so comfy to sit in."

"Yes, but my car will save us as much as $1.00 on every tankful of gas because it uses regular. How about that?"

"Well, that's nice, but what about my frilly hats? We'll have hat room not just head room in my car. And you're no shorty, either... you'd bump your head in a lot of those new cars."

"Not in this one. And it only needs oil changes each 4000 miles. Its muffler is aluminized to normally last twice as long, too."

"In the car I want, everybody enjoys a soft comfortable seat... even the folks in the middle! This car's built just right for us... and besides, I think it's cute."

"Sure, looks are important... and my car will keep on looking good 'cause its finish is so bright and durable it never needs waxing."

"Well, the nice man at the Ford Dealer's told me..."

"Did you say FORD?... that's the car I want, too! And we can save as much as $102.73 on purchase price alone! What are we waiting for?"

"Darling, you're a genius!"

Services are held each day at 7:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Breakfast of coffee and doughnuts is served in the fellowship hall each morning at 6:30.

District FFA Banquet Slated at Stamford

Annual banquet of the Future Farmers of America chapters in the Stamford District will be held at Stamford High School auditorium and cafeteria sometime in April, it was decided by sponsors of the group last week in a meeting at Stamford. Date for the affair has not been set.

The district sweetheart contest will be held at that time, and awards distributed to the winners in the district leadership and judging contests.

Hamlin High School FFA chapter will send a big delegation, including judging teams, according to T. C. Blankinship, sponsor.

Susan Hayward Gets Vital Role in Ferguson Cinema

How does a star who has been nominated four times for an Academy Award as best actress, but who has yet to win the golden Oscar, go about finding a role which will finally turn the trick? "In the first place," said Susan Hayward, the one star who answers to the foregoing description, "you may have to appear in plenty of 'turkeys' before you reach a point where you have any say-so about your parts."

"Right of script approval" is the way that 'say so' is described in contracts. And it takes a lot of blood, sweat and tears to reach that favored spot. By the time you get there, you undoubtedly know the sort of thing you do best, so you read and read and read, always looking for roles to fit your specialty."

According to Robert Wise, who directed Susan in her latest picture, "I Want to Live," story of convicted murderess Barbara Graham, showing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Ferguson Theater through United Artists release, Susan doesn't have a specialty as such. "She has the widest range of anyone I know," said Wise. "She can do anything, from raucous slapstick to the most poignant of emotional drama."

The four pictures for which Miss Hayward has been nominated for the Academy Awards, "Smash Up," "My Foolish Heart," "With a Song in My Heart" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow," bears out a contention of hers—that she's at her best when she suffers. Was that why she chose the Barbara Graham role? she was asked.

"I didn't really choose it in the sense that I was out scouting for a property in that key," she explained. "Walter Wanger produced 'Smash Up,' the film that won me my first academy nomination. Two years ago he called me, full of excitement, to tell me about reading a 300-page outline on Barbara Graham's life by Ed Montgomery, Pulitzer prize winning reporter for The San Francisco Examiner."

"I read the outline and was fascinated by the contradictory traits of personality in the strangely controversial woman, who had an extraordinary effect on everyone she met. She was first a juvenile, then an adult delinquent, arrested on bad check charges, perjury, soliciting, and a flood of misdemeanors. But somewhere along the line she was a good wife and loving mother."

"I read her letters, often literary, sometimes profound. She loved poetry and music, both jazz and classical. None of this seemed to square with the picture drawn of her at the time of her trial. I began to wonder myself whether she was really guilty or innocent. In a word, 'became so fascinated by the woman that I simply had to play her'."

County Livestock Producers Hear Brucellosis Plans

Fifty Jones County livestock producers turned out last Thursday night to hear County Agent Kirby Clayton and Dr. David Ballard explain the brucellosis control program which is outlined in a new bill now in the Texas Senate.

Clayton explained to the group that the state livestock producers are losing Northern markets to Northern buyers because nothing has been done about a brucellosis clean-up program in Texas. Fifteen states, including over 1,400 counties in the United States, are already accredited free states and counties, and over 90 per cent of the counties in the United States are expected to be accredited free by 1960, Clayton stated.

According to reports from Texas A. & M. Extension Service, only three per cent of the counties in the United States will remain unrestricted markets for Texas cattle in two years' time, unless we act with haste on an outlined program for cleaning up brucellosis in Texas.

Dr. David Ballard, veterinarian of Stamford, emphasized the need for a control program to be put into effect immediately for cleaning up the county from brucellosis and leptospirosis. He emphasized the need for a calf hoof vaccination program as well as a blood testing program with immediate elimination of all reactors in order to clean up the county.

Representative Leon Thurman of Austin was not able to attend the meeting, as planned.
